TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1984

To the graduating class of 1984, I extend my heartfelt congratulations to you all and best wishes for your success and happiness in the future.

I hope that your high school experience has given you more than just a good education, but a better understanding of life as well. I am very proud to have been a part of your high school experience. In many ways I have received far more than I have given. Now it is your turn to contribute to society and help make our world a better and safer place for future generations.

Although you are leaving Oxbow, I hope that you will return often to let us know how you are doing or just to say hello.

If I can ever be of any assistance to you in the future, please let me know and I will be available. I will miss you all and think of you often in the years to come.

Howard Sandlik

Dedication

This year the yearbook staff has decided to make a double dedication. We chose to dedicate the 1984 Oxbow Olympian to Mrs. Betty Balch and Mr. Donald Banchik.

Mrs. Balch has been a devoted member of the faculty and is an original member of the Oxbow High School staff. Mrs. Balch graduated from American International College in Springfield, Massachusetts. She taught business and math at Bakersfield Academy, a private school in Bakersfield, Vermont.

For three years Mrs. Balch taught business at Bradford Academy and has taught business related classes at Oxbow since its opening in 1970.

Mrs. Balch is the advisor of Oxbow's outstanding FBLA chapter. She has been instrumental in its success and deserves much credit for its excellent reputation.

Mrs. Balch is retiring from teaching and will not be returning to Oxbow next year. She will be greatly missed.

Donald Banchik joined the Oxbow staff this year. He graduated from Hunter College in New York, with a major in history. He then received a master's degree in secondary education from the College of the City of New York. He has also received a master's degree in administration from New York University.

Mr. Banchik taught for 12 years in New York city schools. For three years he was the principal of Spring Valley High school in New York. Later he became principal of New Brunswick High School in New Jersey. He held this position for five years. For six years he was the principal of Mt. Anthony High School in Bennington, Vermont.

The yearbook staff would like to take this opportunity to wish both of them good luck in the future.

Editors' Note

We would like to express our appreciation to the yearbook staff, without whom this book would not have been possible: Sam Burroughs, Martha Dobbins, Labette French, Traci Ottina, Martin Sanborn, David Senramm, Lisa Welch, and the entire photography class. We would also like to express a special thanks to Heidi Hood, Kathy Russin and the advisor, Mr. Hadley, for their dedication towards the completion of this book.

We came to this position knowing very little about the job. We soon learned that the production of a year book is a monumental task.

As we near the completion of the 1984 Olympian we feel relieved and pleased with the results. We hope you enjoy the book as well.

"Staying After"

What do you do after school? Do you go home and watch "General Hospital?" Do you go work in the P&C as a bag packager? Do you run to Defender or Donkey Kong down at the arcade? Or, do you stay after for help in Spanish or geometry? How about staying after school for fun?

Anyway, you do do something after school! Some people stay after to work in the fencing teams' candy store. Some like to stay after to chuck the frisbees around or to be in the one-acts or even to finish a project. If they don't live too far from school, they may want to go home to get some to get some music. Then they can enjoy the sounds when they stay after to be with friends who are also staying after. They also stay after for sports or to have quiet under Ms. Beresford's reign in the library. So try it. Stay after! It might be fun!

The Haunted Mill

Interview with Kate Hanley who helped create the Frankenstein outfit for Scott Allard.

"What was it like to walk through the Haunted Mill, Kate?"

"Well, we entered on the ground floor and the first thing was the spider. It was scary because of the realness of it, the bigness of it, how it got there. Another thing was the dimly lit room — it hadn't been used for anything other than storage and looked old, dingy. It wasn't a set."

"Then I went up the stairs — dark halls, ghost sounds echoing. It was eerie, then screaming witches with glowing yellow and green faces and blue hair — dancing bones, fluorescent masks popping out of nowhere. Another thing that was fun was the faces of kids coming through, I mean the look of expectation — they weren't sure what was coming next."

"Then I went to the third floor, not sure what was behind that curtain hanging across the door — oh no — its opening by itself — all the kids that came in with me were hiding behind me — just keep him away from us — Frankenstein!"

"The first time I saw him (Scott), it wasn't the same as when we were putting him together in the lights — I had my doubts that he would scare me. But there on the 3rd floor with the eerie sounds, the black lights, the drapes, everything was changed. While I was working with him, opening the drapes to let the people in, I'd try to talk to him. But he wouldn't talk — he'd shake his head and roar — it was like he wasn't Scott anymore — he had become Frankenstein!"

Interview with Scott Allard just after having the above read to him:

"Why did you smile?"

"I enjoyed that last statement, because it proved to me that I succeeded."

"Why did you want to be Frankenstein?"

"Well, one thing is that I'm able to handle the shits. But it's more than that — it's the idea of Frankenstein — I mean think of it — you can't be killed! He was the result of someone trying to create a perfect being."

"But you were a Monster."

"Yes. A monster dissatisfied with the human race that created him — sewed together — living in pain and agony in this huge body for ages."

"Were you actually in pain?"

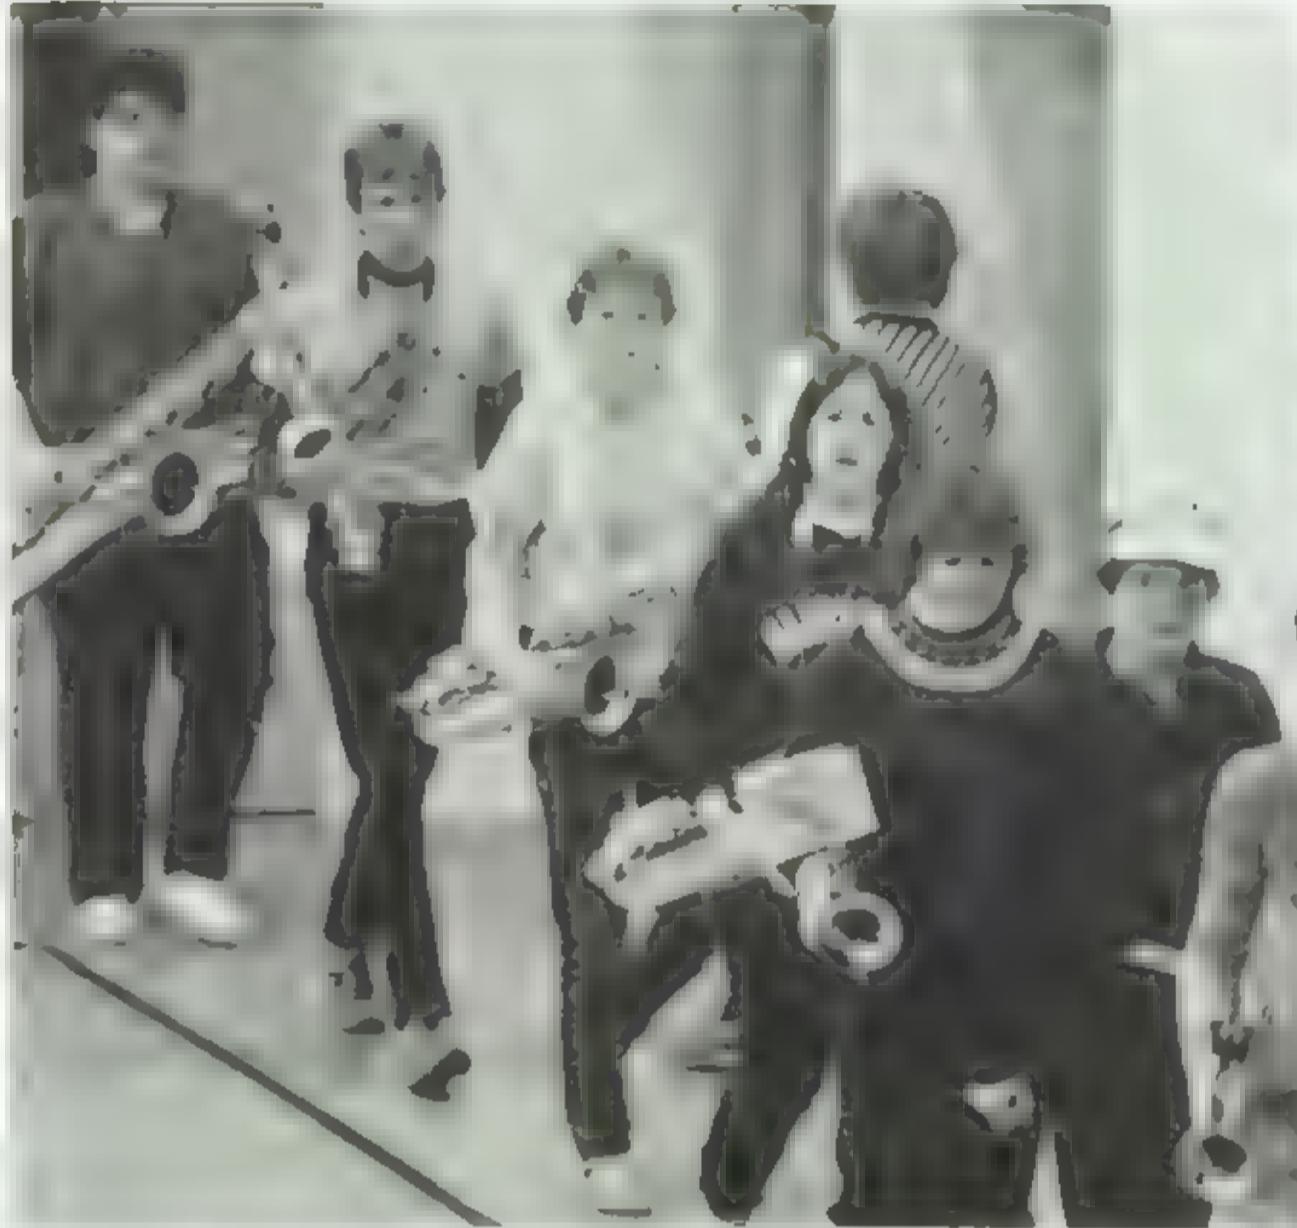

Scott Allard as Frankenstein

"No, not physically."

"Did you enjoy the experience?"

"Yes I did. Seeing the people coming through — their reactions — their screaming — they would trigger me into the act — and the more they screamed the more I loved it."
